Fund manager's commentary

Global equities and bonds rose 2.02% and 0.84% in sterling respectively as investors awaited the US election. In the event, Donald Trump was elected president and the Republicans secured majorities in both houses of Congress, enhancing Trump's chances of implementing his plans. US stocks fell 0.91% in dollar terms but rose 3.39% in sterling, the result of the dollar's 4.33% rise against the pound. Currency hedging hurt some EF Brompton Global Balanced Fund bond holdings, with the sterling-hedged iShares $ Treasury Bond 7-10 Years exchange-traded fund investment weakest, down 3.42%; among the UK fixed income holdings, Jupiter Dynamic Bond was weakest, down 2.54%. Dollar-strength hurt equities in Asia excluding Japan and emerging markets, down 0.32% and 0.18% respectively in sterling. Within the portfolio, Baillie Gifford Emerging Markets Growth fell only 0.14% but Prusik Asian Equity Income fell 2.33%. Indian equities fell 3.65% in sterling because a rising oil price, up 7.38% in sterling in October, may prove a headwind for the oil-importing Indian economy. UK stocks fell 1.67%, led lower by small companies, which fell 2.75% in the run-up to Labour's inaugural budget, which included tax and spending increases. Consumers and businesses may, however, gain in confidence, committing to longer-term spending as a result of greater clarity after the budget. Within the portfolio, Aberforth UK Small Companies was weakest, down 4.10%. Amid heightened political uncertainty, gold rose 8.28% in sterling as investors sought safe-haven investments. The EF Brompton Global Balanced Fund fell 0.80% in October while the sector fell 0.51%.

ASSET MANAGEMENT

An EF Brompton Multi-Manager OEIC sub-fund

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds, unregulated collective investment schemes, and may also include transferable securities (including investment trusts and similar instruments), money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

It is expected that exposure to equity markets will typically range from a minimum of 20% to a maximum of 60% of the total Fund, with the aim of achieving the Fund's objective. However, investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector.

The Fund may also hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Mixed Investment 20-60% Shares. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
