EF Brompton Global Conservative Fund

An EF Brompton Multi-Manager OEIC sub-fund

Fund manager's commentary

Global equities rose 0.94% in sterling while bonds fell 1.07%. The dollar fell 1.98% against the pound while gold rose 6.66% in sterling in response to geopolitical uncertainties as US forces kidnapped Venezuela's president, Nicolas Maduro, and US government lawyers opened a criminal investigation into Jerome Powell, the Federal Reserve chairman, over Fed building costs. The iShares Physical Gold exchange-traded commodity was the EF Brompton Global Conservative Fund's best performer, up 13.34% in sterling. The portfolio also benefitted from its relatively high allocation to equities in emerging markets and Asia excluding Japan, which rose 6.70% and 6.06% respectively in sterling, buoyed by dollar weakness. The emerging markets holding, Pacific North of South EM Equity Income Opportunities, outperformed, rising 9.18%, but Man Asia (ex-Japan) Equity and Prusik Asian Equity Income lagged, gaining only 4.65% and 4.75% respectively. US stocks lagged, down 0.56% in sterling, led lower by technology stocks, down 2.06%. The iShares S&P 500 Equal Weight exchange-traded fund (ETF) outperformed, however, rising 1.32%, shielded by its relatively low allocation to technology stocks. Among the portfolio's global bond holdings, the iShares $ Treasury Bond 0-1 Year ETF fell 1.71% thanks to dollar weakness but the sterling-hedged holdings in Pimco Global Low Duration Real Return and Legal & General Global Inflation Linked Bond gained 0.78% and 0.76% respectively. Among the UK bond holdings, Aegon Strategic Bond and TwentyFour Dynamic Bond did best, up 1.08% and 0.88% respectively. The EF Brompton Global Conservative Fund rose 1.66% in January while the sector rose 0.96%.

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds, unregulated collective investment schemes, and may also include transferable securities (including investment trusts and similar instruments), money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

It is expected that no more than 35% of the total Fund will have exposure to equity markets, with the remainder of the portfolio providing exposure to assets such as alternatives, commodities, property, cash, cash equivalents and fixed income investments, in order to maintain its conservative risk profile. However, investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector.

The Fund may also hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Mixed Investment 0-35% Shares. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
