Fund manager's commentary

Global equity markets fell 6.25% in sterling as Donald Trump's tariff plans unsettled investors. European Union and UK exporters will face 20% and 10% tariffs respectively while some developing countries will incur far higher rates. US stocks underperformed, down 7.94% in sterling. The EF Brompton Global Equity Fund's holding in the iShares S&P 500 exchange-traded fund (ETF) fell 7.97%, dragged lower by the technology sector's 11.73% fall in sterling, but the iShares S&P 500 Equal Weight ETF fell only 5.79%. Within the global allocation, Polar Capital Global Technology was the portfolio's weakest holding, falling 14.40%, but Dimensional Global Targeted Value was relatively resilient, down 5.35%. UK equities outperformed, down 1.99%. Within the portfolio, Man Income was relatively resilient, down 1.18%, but Artemis UK Special Situations, down 3.65%, suffered from its bias towards smaller companies, which fell 3.72%. Equities in Europe excluding the UK, down 2.88% in sterling, also outperformed. Within the portfolio, Lightman European, a value-oriented holding, bucked the negative trend, rising 0.29%. In Japan, where equities fell 1.48% in sterling, Nippon Active Value, an activist investment trust that targets improved corporate governance, fell just 0.27%. Equities in emerging markets and Asia excluding Japan fell 1.79% and 2.39% respectively in sterling. Within the portfolio, Redwheel Next Generation Emerging Markets Equity and Prusik Asian Equity Income fell just 0.33% and 0.54% respectively but Mobius Investment Trust and Man Asia (ex-Japan) equity fell 6.32% and 2.41% respectively. The EF Brompton Global Equity Fund fell 4.72% in March while the sector fell 6.04%.

ASSET MANAGEMENT

An EF Brompton Multi-Manager OEIC sub-fund

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds and unregulated collective investment schemes. The Fund may also invest in investment trusts (and similar instruments), other transferable securities, money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

Investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector. The Fund may hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Global. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
