Fund manager's commentary

Global equities rose 4.78% in sterling. US inflation increased only modestly to 3%, a lower figure than investors had feared, leaving room for the Federal Reserve to cut its policy interest rate by a quarter percentage point to 3.75-4%. US stocks rose 4.87% in sterling, led higher by the technology sector, which rose 8.66%. Polar Capital Global Technology was the EF Brompton Global Equity Fund's best performer, up 15.27%. The iShares S&P 500 Equal Weight exchange-traded fund (ETF) underperformed, however, returning only 1.48% because of its relatively-low weighting in the technology sector. The UK stockmarket rose 3.72%, with overseas earnings benefitting from the pound's fall against the dollar, but smaller companies returned only 1.15%. Within the portfolio, Man Income rose 4.33% but Artemis UK Special Situations, which has a focus on medium-sized companies, lagged, up only 1.25%. Equities in Europe excluding the UK underperformed, up 2.97% in sterling, partly due to political instability in France, but Lightman European did better, rising 3.29%. A holding in Jupiter European was added, diversifying the allocation at the expense of the iShares MSCI EMU ETF. In Japan, where equities rose 4.32% in sterling, Nippon Active Value underperformed, falling 5.50%. Trade tensions between China and the United States eased and equities in Asia excluding Japan and emerging markets outperformed, rising 7.08% and 6.76% respectively in sterling. The portfolio's holdings underperformed, however, with Prusik Asian Equity Income weakest, up only 2.59%. The EF Brompton Global Equity Fund rose 3.66% in October while the sector rose 3.96%.

ASSET MANAGEMENT

An EF Brompton Multi-Manager OEIC sub-fund

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds and unregulated collective investment schemes. The Fund may also invest in investment trusts (and similar instruments), other transferable securities, money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

Investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector. The Fund may hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Global. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
