Fund manager's commentary

Global equities and global bonds rose 4.97% and 1.49% in sterling respectively as investors responded favourably to the Republicans' clean sweep in the presidential and congressional elections. Donald Trump promised 25% tariffs on goods from Mexico and Canada and 35% from China. Trump's policies may prove inflationary and lead to a stronger dollar and interest rates remaining higher for longer but US stocks outperformed, rising 7.09% in sterling on hopes of tax cuts and deregulation. The EF Brompton Global Growth Fund's US equity allocation increased through the purchase of the iShares S&P 500 Equal Weight exchange-traded fund. This holds equal amounts of the largest 500 US stocks unlike conventional market value-weighted passive investments, which are currently dominated by large technology companies. Equities in emerging markets and Asia excluding Japan lagged, down, 2.48% and 2.17% respectively in sterling. Within the portfolio, Prusik Asian Equity Income outperformed, rising 0.78%, but Baillie Gifford Pacific fell 2.47%. Within the global equity allocation, Polar Capital Global Insurance did best, rising 8.79%. Commercial insurers are benefitting from attractive returns on cash and higher insurance premia because of a scarcity of underwriting capital and increased natural disasters. Clearbridge Global Infrastructure Income, however, gained only 3.33% because the sector may face headwinds given Trump's lack of commitment to investing in infrastructure to meet clean energy targets. Dimensional Global Targeted Value, which has a bias towards smaller companies, was added to the global allocation. The EF Brompton Global Growth Fund rose 2.06% in November while the sector rose 2.42%.

ASSET MANAGEMENT

An EF Brompton Multi-Manager OEIC sub-fund

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds, unregulated collective investment schemes, and may also include transferable securities (including investment trusts and similar instruments), money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

It is expected that exposure to equity markets will typically range from a minimum of 40% to a maximum of 85% of the total Fund, with the aim of achieving the Fund's objective. However, investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector.

The Fund may also hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Mixed Investment 40-85% Shares. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
