Fund manager's commentary

The Federal Reserve and European Central Bank raised their policy interest rates by a quarter percentage point to combat inflation as the Iran War caused the oil price to rise 12.15% in sterling. Global bonds fell 2.38% in dollar terms but just 0.37% in sterling as the dollar strengthened 2.06% against the pound while UK government bonds fell 1.30% on fears that the Bank of England would also raise rates. Within the EF Brompton Global Growth Fund, the iShares $ Treasury Bond 0-1 Year exchange-traded fund (ETF) benefited from its short duration, rising 2.32%, but Pimco Low Duration Real Return, also a short-duration holding, fell 1.38% due to its sterling hedging. US equities gained 1.71% in sterling, led by technology stocks, up 7.11%, and outperforming the 0.96% rise in global stocks. The iShares MSCI Global Semiconductors ETF was the best performer, up 12.59%, but the portfolio's relatively-low US equity allocation hurt overall performance. Equities in Asia excluding Japan and emerging markets gained 1.80% and 1.54% respectively in sterling. Within the portfolio, Barings Korea, which invests heavily in the semiconductor sector, rose 4.52% but Chikara Indian Subcontinent and Redwheel Next Generation Emerging Markets Equity, which does not invest in tech-heavy Asian markets, fell 5.81% and 4.03% respectively. In Japan, where stocks gained 3.44% in sterling, Nippon Active Value fell 2.64% while Baillie Gifford Japanese Smaller Companies and Comgest Growth Japan rose only 1.92% and 2.35% respectively. The EF Brompton Global Growth Fund fell 1.07% in September while the sector fell 0.62%.

BROMPTON

ASSET MANAGEMENT

An EF Brompton Multi-Manager OEIC sub-fund

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds, unregulated collective investment schemes, and may also include transferable securities (including investment trusts and similar instruments), money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

It is expected that exposure to equity markets will typically range from a minimum of 40% to a maximum of 85% of the total Fund, with the aim of achieving the Fund's objective. However, investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector.

The Fund may also hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Mixed Investment 40-85% Shares. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
