†† The historic yield on the B share class reflects distributions paid or declared over the past 12 months as a percentage of the share price at the date of this document. It does not include any initial charge and investors may be subject to tax on distributions.

All of the fund's expenses are charged to capital. This has had the effect of increasing the distributions paid on an annualised basis by approximately 0.90 percentage points on the B share class and reducing the capital performance by an equivalent amount.

EF Brompton Global Income Fund

An EF Brompton Multi-Manager OEIC sub-fund

Fund manager's commentary

Global equities and bonds gained 6.06% and 1.15% respectively in sterling while oil fell 12.63% on hopes of a Middle East ceasefire extension leading to a reopening of the Strait of Hormuz. Inflationary pressures remained, however, and US consumer sentiment weakened. US equities gained 6.11% in sterling supported by optimism about artificial intelligence (AI) but the EF Brompton Global Income Fund's Xtrackers S&P 500 Equal Weight exchange-traded fund (ETF) holding rose only 3.47% due to its relatively low technology sector weighting. The iShares MSCI Global Semiconductors ETF was introduced because semiconductor companies are benefitting from AI capital spending. Equities in Asia excluding Japan and emerging markets, where the portfolio had overweight allocations, gained 12.16% and 10.59% respectively in sterling, with returns driven by large South Korean and Taiwanese companies. Within the portfolio, JP Morgan Emerging Markets Income gained 10.21% but Prusik Asian Equity Income gained only 3.54%. In the UK, where Labour's poor local election results may lead to a leadership challenge to the prime minister, equities returned only 0.95% but the portfolio's holdings outperformed, with Aberforth Geared Value & Income doing best, up 3.24%. In Europe excluding the UK, where equities also lagged, up only 4.55% in sterling, Jupiter European outperformed, rising 6.04%, but Lightman European gained only 2.32%. The portfolio's bond investments lagged, with the iShares $ Treasury Bond 7-10 Years ETF weakest, falling 1.31%. The EF Brompton Global Income Fund rose 2.52% in May while the sector rose 2.67%. At 31 May, the historic yield was 3.15%.

ASSET MANAGEMENT

An EF Brompton Multi-Manager OEIC sub-fund

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds and unregulated collective investment schemes.

The Fund may also invest in investment trusts (and similar instruments), other transferable securities, money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

It is expected that exposure to equity markets will typically range from a minimum of 20% to a maximum of 60% of the total Fund, with the aim of achieving the Fund's objective. However, investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector.

The Fund may also hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Mixed Investment 20-60% Shares. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
