Fund manager's commentary

Inflationary pressures eased but the Federal Reserve (Fed), Bank of England (BoE) and European Central Bank kept their official interest rates on hold, aiming to bring inflation sustainably to target. By contrast, the Bank of Japan tightened policy for the first time since 2007, ending Japan's negative interest rate era. Japanese stocks rose 3.42% in sterling. Within the EF Brompton Global Opportunities Fund, Man GLG Japan CoreAlpha and Nippon Active Value outperformed, up 5.78% and 5.33% respectively. Comgest Growth Japan lagged, rising only 2.74%, but Japan's monetary policy shift may produce a rotation in market leadership away from value stocks that benefitted from yen-weakness towards growth stocks. The Fed lifted its 2024 economic growth forecast from December's 1.2-1.7% to 2-2.4%. US stocks rose 3.36% in sterling, beating global stocks, up 3.33%, but technology stocks lagged, rising only 2.49%. Within the portfolio, Polar Capital Global Technology and the iShares Nasdaq 100 exchange-traded fund did worse, rising 0.64% and 1.33% respectively. Dimensional Global Targeted Value, a small cap investment that should benefit from changing equity market leadership, was added to the global allocation. The tech-lite UK stockmarket outperformed, up 4.71% as the BoE forecast economic recovery and inflation below 2% in the second quarter of 2024. All three of the portfolio's UK equity holdings lagged, however, with Artemis UK Special Situations, up 4.21%, weakest. With interest rate cuts approaching, the iShares Physical Gold exchange-traded commodity gained 8.26%. The EF Brompton Global Opportunities Fund rose 3.28%† in March while the sector rose 2.78%.

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds and unregulated collective investment schemes.

The Fund may also invest in investment trusts (and similar instruments), other transferable securities, money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts. Investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector.

Although the Fund will usually be invested across a range of asset classes, in certain market conditions, the Investment Manager may decide to hold up to 100% in equity markets. This would be for a limited period and only in exceptional circumstances.

The Fund may also hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Flexible Investment. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
