Fund manager's commentary

As anticipated, the Federal Reserve raised US interest rates for the first time since 2006, increasing its Fed Funds Target Rate by a quarter percentage point. Global equities gained 0.38% in sterling while US equities rose 0.52%, buoyed by the dollar's 2.13% rise against sterling. The euro and yen gained even more against sterling, rising 5.05% and 4.66% respectively as recent monetary policy announcements from both respective central banks fell short of market expectations. Sterling weakened as the Brexit debate gained greater currency. The oil price fell 12.93% in sterling, leaving the 2015 decline at 42.17%. The commodity-heavy UK stockmarket fell 1.87% but all of the FP Brompton Global Growth Fund's UK equity fund holdings outperformed because of their deliberate bias in favour of funds with low energy and mining exposures. Of these holdings, Chelverton UK Equity Income did best, rising 2.20%. The Wisdom Tree Europe Small Cap dividend exchange-traded fund (ETF) was the portfolio's best performer, rising 3.28% as the region's smaller companies outperformed larger peers. The holding in the dollar-hedged UBS MSCI EMU ETF was the worst performer, falling 3.75% because of its large cap bias and dollar hedge. Cash within the portfolio increased through the partial sale of the S&P 500 Core ETF. The stronger dollar may prove a headwind for US equities. Investment in the SPDR US Financials ETF increased modestly, however, because financial stocks should benefit from rising interest rates. The FP Brompton Global Growth Fund gained 0.75%† in December while the sector fell 0.37%.
