† The historic yield reflects distributions paid or declared over the past 12 months as a percentage of the share price at the date of this document. It does not include any initial charge and investors may be subject to tax on distributions.

All of the fund's expenses are charged to capital. This has had the effect of increasing the distributions paid on an annualised basis by approximately 0.90 percentage points on the B share class and reducing the capital performance by an equivalent amount.

Fund manager's commentary

The European Central Bank (ECB) commenced quantitative easing, committing to purchase at least €1.1 trillion of assets by late 2016. Annualised eurozone prices showed a 0.6% drop in January, confirming the necessity for further monetary support. Europe ex-UK equities rose 4.32% in sterling, outperforming global equities, which rose 2.22%. Investors remained sanguine despite the electoral success of Greece's anti-austerity Syriza party. Schroder European Alpha Income gained 4.45%, making it the best-performing Europe ex-UK equity holding within the FP Brompton Global Income Fund. US equities underperformed, rising 0.70% as the divergent paths of monetary policy between the Federal Reserve and other major central banks became increasingly apparent. The ECB stimulus packaged and cheaper energy benefited Asian equities, leading to a 3.55% gain for Schroder Asian Income Maximiser. The un-hedged CF Morant Wright Nippon Yield fund gained 6.39% as the yen rose 5.97% against the pound. Falling inflation and a further 7.12% oil price retreat led to gains of 4.57% and 5.05% respectively from gilts and sterling corporate bonds. The iShares Global Inflation Linked Bond exchange-traded fund returned 4.81% while F&C Property Growth and Income gained 5.16% as other higher-yielding investments such as commercial property benefited from the search for income. The Swiss National Bank's decision to break Switzerland's currency link to the euro roiled currency markets. The euro fell by 3.19% against sterling but the dollar rose 3.82%. The FP Brompton Global Income Fund gained 2.39% in January while the sector rose 2.25%. At 31 January, the projected yield† was 3.01%.
