† The historic yield reflects distributions paid or declared over the past 12 months as a percentage of the share price at the date of this document. It does not include any initial charge and investors may be subject to tax on distributions.

All of the fund's expenses are charged to capital. This has had the effect of increasing the distributions paid on an annualised basis by approximately 0.90 percentage points on the B share class and reducing the capital performance by an equivalent amount.

Fund manager's commentary

Global equities fell sharply in early October as the end of US quantitative easing coincided with weak global inflation numbers and poor eurozone economic data. The surprise announcement of a major increase in monetary stimulus from the Bank of Japan reassured investors, however, that central bank policy overall remained supportive for risky assets. Global equities recovered sharply, posting a 2.07% gain in sterling for the month. US equities outperformed and rose 3.81% in sterling. The Japanese equity market rose 4.40% in local currency terms on the last day of October and the yen fell. The FP Brompton Global Income Fund's holding in the dollar-hedged Coupland Cardiff Income & Growth fund, bought during October, benefited from local market gains and the 1.33% appreciation of the dollar against sterling but this will only be reflected in November's performance. Dollar strength was behind the 1.88% gain for Templeton Global Bond. Dollar strength and weaker commodity prices, however, negatively affected the holding in the Blackrock World Mining investment trust, which fell 18.65% partly as a result of its write-off of its investment in a Sierra Leonean iron ore mine. Falls in eurozone equity markets also proved a headwind for the Income Fund, with Schroder European Alpha Income falling 3.09%. The portfolio's property holdings did, however, make positive returns, with Henderson UK Property and SWIP Property Trust gaining 1.60% and 1.48% respectively. The FP Brompton Global Income Fund fell 1.41% in October while the sector ended unchanged. At 31 October, the projected yield† was 3.16%.
