†† The historic yield on the B share class reflects distributions paid or declared over the past 12 months as a percentage of the share price at the date of this document. It does not include any initial charge and investors may be subject to tax on distributions.

All of the fund's expenses are charged to capital. This has had the effect of increasing the distributions paid on an annualised basis by approximately 0.90 percentage points on the B share class and reducing the capital performance by an equivalent amount.

Fund manager's commentary

Global equities fell 5.57% in sterling and strong inflation and jobs data also sparked a bond market sell-off, pushing 10-year US Treasury yields to 3.26% on 9 October. On the evidence of loan officers' surveys, the Federal Reserve's monetary policy had not yet become restrictive but investors were concerned recent weakness might prove the start of a bear market if the Fed continued its recent pace of monetary tightening. Donald Trump's trade tariffs also weighed on equities in Asia excluding Japan and emerging markets, which fell 9.01% and 6.82% respectively in sterling. The EF Brompton Global Income Fund benefited from its relatively-low allocation to these markets and Schroder Oriental Income was relatively resilient, falling 6.14%. Japanese equities also underperformed, falling 6.95% in sterling despite the yen's 2.72% rise against the pound. Lindsell Train Japanese Equity, a "growth"-oriented holding, did even worse, falling 9.18%, but GLG Japan CoreAlpha, which focusses on "value", was relatively resilient, falling 4.63%. The relative resilience of "value" managers was also apparent among the UK equity holdings. Schroder Income, down 3.14%, held up better than UK stocks, which lost 4.83%. Brexit fears were, however, more severe for smaller UK companies, down 7.18%, and Aberforth Split Level Income did worse, falling 9.75%. The iShares $ Treasury Bond 1-3 Years exchange-traded fund was the best-performing holding, rising 2.35% as the dollar rose 2.06% against sterling. The EF Brompton Global Income Fund fell 2.99%† in October while the sector fell 3.04%. At 31 October, the historic yield was 3.64%††.
