Fund manager's commentary

Geopolitical events drove financial markets in March as the Ukraine crisis escalated and investors pondered the potential impact of retaliatory trade sanctions. Russian equities fell 11.79% in one day before recovering almost all this ground to end the month down 1.51% in sterling as fears subsided. The FP Brompton Global Equity Fund's 2.75% investment in Neptune Russia and Greater Russia underperformed, falling 7.53% in sterling. Emerging markets and Asia-Pacific ex-Japan equities posted gains of 3.63% and 2.32% respectively in sterling, outperforming the 0.73% gain from global equities. Schroder Small Cap Discovery outperformed, rising 4.41% in sterling. The recovery in these markets may, however, prove short-lived as US economic data strengthens and Chinese monetary policy remains tight. The Polar Capital Global Financials investment trust gained 1.70%, benefiting from its significant holdings in Europe ex-UK and emerging market stocks. US equities gained 1.37% as solid US non-farm payroll numbers allowed the Federal Reserve to continue tapering. Europe ex-UK equities rose by 0.61% in sterling as key survey data confirmed a gradual improvement in activity and sentiment during the first quarter, particularly in the periphery. Eurozone unemployment has stabilised while exports and consumer spending data were encouraging. Schroder European Alpha Income outperformed, gaining 1.35% in sterling but Fidelity Germany fell 1.78%, driven lower by the German economy's heavy dependence on Russian energy imports. Japanese equities fell 0.17% as investors awaited the impact of a planned rise in consumption tax on spending. The Global Equity Fund fell 0.57% in March against 0.33% for the sector.
