WAY Global Balanced Portfolio

Fund manager's commentary

Global equities and bonds gained 6.06% and 1.15% respectively in sterling while oil fell 12.63% on hopes that the US and Iran would agree a ceasefire extension leading to a reopening of the Strait of Hormuz. Underlying price pressures remained, however, and US consumer sentiment weakened. US equities gained 6.11% in sterling supported by strong corporate earnings growth and optimism about the commercial benefits of artificial intelligence (AI) but the WAY Global Balanced Portfolio's holding in the Xtrackers S&P 500 Equal Weight exchange-traded fund (ETF) rose only 3.47% due to its relatively low technology weighting. Polar Capital Global Technology was significantly increased to benefit from its significant holdings in semiconductor and other hardware companies, which are benefitting from heavy AI capital spending. Equities in Asia excluding Japan and emerging markets, where the portfolio had overweight allocations, gained 12.16% and 10.59% respectively in sterling, with returns driven by large South Korean and Taiwanese companies. Pacific North of South Global Emerging Markets Equity outperformed, up 12.97%, but Chikara Indian Subcontinent fell 0.33%. In the UK, where Labour's poor local election results may lead to a leadership challenge to the prime minister, equities returned only 0.95% but the portfolio's single actively-managed investment, Artemis UK Special Situations, outperformed, rising 3.84%. The portfolio's bond investments were relatively weak, with the Xtrackers US Treasuries ETF and the sterling-hedged holding in Pimco Global Low Duration Real Return returning only 0.11% and 0.31% respectively. The WAY Global Balanced Portfolio rose 2.69% in May while the sector rose 2.67%.
