WAY Flexible Global Growth Portfolio

Fund manager's commentary

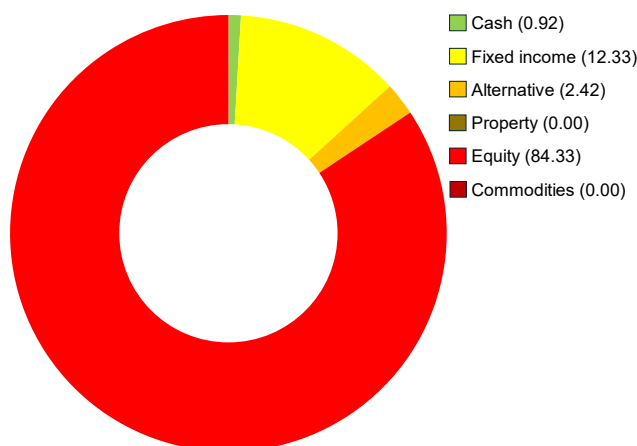

Global equities rose 0.41% in sterling but bonds fell 0.63%, dragged lower by the dollar's 2.05% fall against the pound as President Trump nominated a monetary dove, Stephen Miran, as Federal Reserve governor, increasing fears that monetary policy was becoming politicised. Dollar-weakness typically supports developing economies but equities in Asia excluding Japan and emerging markets underperformed, falling 0.78% and 0.61% respectively in sterling. Within the WAY Flexible Global Growth Portfolio, Redwheel Next Generation Emerging Markets Equity and Man Asia (ex Japan) Equity outperformed, rising 2.52% and 1.38% respectively. US stocks fell 0.06% in sterling, dragged lower by the 1.09% fall for technology stocks, but HSBC S&P 500 Equal Weight Equity, which has a lower technology allocation than conventional index investments, rose 0.45%. UK stocks outperformed, rising 1.08%, but Artemis UK Special Situations fell 1.00%. Equities in Europe excluding the UK also outperformed, rising 1.27% in sterling, and Lightman European, a value-oriented holding, did better, rising 2.77%. In Japan, where equities rose 4.93% in sterling, Man Japan CoreAlpha outperformed, up 7.04%. Within the bond portfolio, the sterling-hedged Pimco Global Low Duration Real Return holding benefited from currency movements, rising 1.36%. Among UK bond holdings, Schroder Strategic Credit rose 0.58%. The TwentyFour Strategic Income was reduced. The sole significant alternative holding, Man UK Absolute Value, a daily-traded, long/short equity investment, fell 0.75% through poor stock selection. With bullion strong, the iShares Gold Producers exchange-traded fund rose 19.41%. The WAY Flexible Global Growth Portfolio rose 0.83% in August, while the sector rose 0.46%.

Although the Fund will normally remain fully invested, the property of the Fund may consist of up to 10% cash or near cash where this may be reasonably regarded as necessary in order to enable the pursuit of the Fund's objective, settlement of redemptions of units and the efficient management of the Fund in accordance with its objectives or other purposes which may be reasonably regarded as ancillary to the objectives of the Fund.
