Fund manager's commentary

UK equities and sterling rose in early May following the Tory election victory, with the formation of a majority government ending political uncertainty, but returns were eroded when investors refocused on Federal Reserve monetary policy. The Fed chairman, Janet Yellen, reaffirmed the likelihood of an interest rate rise in 2015 subject to employment and inflation data. The dollar gained 0.71% against sterling while US equities gained 2.0% in sterling. The WAY Global Blue Managed Portfolio has maintained relatively-low US equity holdings because valuations appeared expensive and this held back returns. Gains elsewhere, however, aided performance. In Japan, the dollar-hedged GLG CoreAlpha fund gained 6.87% while FundsSmith Equity returned 2.74%, outperforming the 0.65% gain in sterling from global equities. Europe ex-UK equities fell 0.12% but Schroder European and the sterling-hedged Schroder European Alpha Plus fund returned 2.79% and 2.36% respectively. UK equities generally gained 0.60% but smaller companies rose 4.69%. The portfolio's UK equity investments outperformed because of their small and medium-sized company bias in preference to large companies exposed to commodity prices, with GLG UK Undervalued Assets and UBS's FTSE 250 exchange-traded fund (ETF) rising 4.71% and 4.20% respectively. Dollar strength proved a headwind for Asia, emerging markets and commodities, with BlackRock Gold & General and Hermes Asia ex Japan falling 1.16% and 1.06% respectively. Schroder Small Cap Discovery, however, rose 0.92%. In fixed income, the iShares Global Inflation Linked Bond ETF fell 1.04%. The WAY Global Blue Managed Portfolio gained 0.88%[†] in May while the sector rose 0.63%.
