Fund manager's commentary

The oil price recovered 17.19% in sterling in response to economic stimulus in Europe and Asia in particular. A fall in the US oil rig count suggested supply had tightened. China cut the reserve requirement ratio for its banks by one percentage point, the largest reduction since 2008. Asia ex-Japan and emerging market equities rose 2.25% and 4.05% respectively in sterling while global equities fell 0.55%. Within the WAY Global Blue Managed Portfolio, Hermes Asia ex Japan outperformed, returning 4.50%, a rise that made it the portfolio's top-performing asset. First-quarter US economic growth slowed to 0.2% annualised and the key non-farm payroll data disappointed. The slowdown could, however, prove temporary as poor weather and a ports dispute negatively affected data. Federal Reserve meeting minutes showed members were divided on the timing of the first interest rate rise for many years. The dollar declined 3.40% against sterling, giving back some of March's gains. As a result, the iShares Core S&P 500 exchange-traded fund (ETF) fell 2.50%. Japanese stocks declined 1.62% in sterling but GLG Japan Core Alpha outperformed, rising 3.94%. The potential inflationary effect of a higher oil price pushed down the prices of bonds. Gilts and sterling corporate bonds fell 2.11% and 1.80% respectively while the portfolio's iShares $ Treasury Bond 1-3yrs ETF holding fell 3.28%. The portfolio's strategic bond holding, Schroder Strategic Bond, returned 0.57%, however, while the Salar convertible bond fund returned 2.45%. The WAY Global Blue Managed Portfolio gained 0.27%† in April while the sector rose 0.16%.
