Fund manager's commentary

Geopolitical events drove financial markets in March as the Ukraine crisis escalated and investors pondered the potential impact of retaliatory trade sanctions. Russian equities fell 11.79% in one day before recovering almost all this ground to end the month down 1.51% in sterling terms as fears subsided. Emerging markets and Asia-Pacific ex-Japan equities posted gains of 3.63% and 2.32% respectively, outperforming the 0.73% gain in sterling from global equities. The recovery in these markets may, however, prove short-lived as US economic data strengthens and Chinese monetary policy remains tight. The WAY Global Cautious Portfolio had no direct holdings in these markets in March. Eurozone unemployment has stabilised while exports and consumer spending data were encouraging. Europe ex-UK equities gained 0.61% in sterling and investment was increased through an additional purchase of Schroder European. Fidelity Germany fell 1.78% reflecting the German economy's heavy dependence on Russian energy imports. Gilts returned 0.03% while sterling corporate bonds fell 0.15% as falling UK inflation reduced pressure on the Bank of England to raise interest rates. The portfolio's UK fixed income holdings outperformed, with Schroder Strategic Bond the top performer in this sector, gaining 1.02%. UK equities felt the drag of the Ukraine crisis and Chinese credit worries, falling 2.60% in March. The WAY Global Cautious Portfolio fell 0.85% compared to a fall of 0.22% for the sector. The historic holding in Origo Partners Plc, a Chinese private equity fund, continues to be illiquid. This investment was almost entirely written off in March, occasioning a 0.56% loss for the fund.
