Fund manager's commentary

Global equities fell further in September, retreating 2.10% in sterling. The Federal Reserve held off raising interest rates despite strong employment data. Low inflation and the threat of a global economic slowdown emanating from China stayed the Fed's hand. The dovish policy response failed to improve stockmarket sentiment, with investors seeking sanctuary in safe haven assets. UK gilts gained 1.23% while the dollar rose 1.53% against sterling. Within the WAY Global Red Active Portfolio, the iShares $ Treasury Bond 1-3 Years and DB European Property exchange-traded funds (ETFs) contributed positively, rising 1.66% and 1.28% respectively, and were the portfolio's top-performing holdings during the month. The significant cash allocation also proved defensive. Emerging markets reversed the recent trend, outperforming despite the dollar headwind. At the end of a torrid quarter, Asia ex-Japan and emerging market equities fell 0.23% and 1.48% respectively in sterling. Schroder Small Cap Discovery, the portfolio's only emerging market equity holding, rose 0.69%. Japanese equities fell 4.98% in sterling as risk-averse investors pushed the yen 2.74% higher against the pound, reducing Japan's export competitiveness. GLG Japan CoreAlpha Equity fell 8.32%. UK equities, depressed by London's heavy weighting towards commodity producers, fell 2.99%. Lindsell Train UK Equity Income, however, rose 0.41%, benefiting from its focus on companies with global consumer franchises. Two global equity funds, Fundsmith Equity and the iShares MSCI World Minimum Volatility ETF, were also relatively defensive, falling 0.49% and 0.68% respectively. The WAY Global Red Active Portfolio fell 1.86%† in September while the sector fell 2.26%. Financial data source: Thomson Reuters 30 September 2015. † A Acc shares
