Fund manager's commentary

The oil price rose 7.46% in sterling in September in response to planned production cuts announced by Opec while commodity prices strengthened in general as US monetary policy remained on hold for a further month. Equities in Asia excluding Japan and emerging markets gained 2.49% and 2.15% respectively in sterling, outperforming the 1.49% gain from global equity markets. The WAY Global Red Active Portfolio retained a relatively-high allocation in emerging markets. Goldman Sachs Emerging Markets Equity did best among the portfolio's emerging market holdings, rising 3.54%. Japanese equities fell in local currency but the yen's 2.98% rise against the pound left the Tokyo stockmarket up 0.32% in sterling. Against this background, Lindsell Train Japanese Equity outperformed, rising 7.90%, while the sterling-hedged holding of this fund also outperformed, returning 4.46% in over the month. UK government bonds and corporate bonds fell 2.29% and 1.59% respectively, with yields rising from post-Brexit lows in response to signs of economic resilience. The portfolio's bond holdings rose, however, thanks to its bias towards funds owning global, US and emerging market bonds. Of the three holdings, the iShares Emerging Markets Local Government Bond exchange-traded fund (ETF) did best, rising 2.69%. In Europe excluding the UK, Fidelity Germany outperformed, rising 1.13%. The portfolio's UK equity allocation was reduced through profit-taking. The iShares S&P 500 Financials Sector ETF was added in anticipation of a US interest rate rise later this year. The WAY Global Red Active Portfolio gained 1.13% † in September while the sector gained 0.87%.
