Fund manager's commentary

Geopolitical events drove markets in March as the Ukraine crisis escalated and investors pondered the potential impact of retaliatory trade sanctions. Russian equities fell 11.79% in one day before recovering almost all this ground to end the month down 1.51% in sterling as fears subsided. Emerging markets and Asia-Pacific ex-Japan equities posted gains of 3.63% and 2.32% respectively, outperforming the 0.73% gain in sterling from global equities. The recovery in these markets may, however, prove short-lived as US economic data strengthens and Chinese monetary policy remains tight. Schroder Small Cap Discovery, the WAY Global Red Active Portfolio's only investment in these markets, outperformed, rising 4.41% in sterling terms. US equities gained 1.37% as solid US non-farm payroll numbers allowed the Federal Reserve to continue tapering. Europe ex-UK equities rose 0.61%, in sterling, with key survey data confirming improvement in activity and sentiment during the first quarter, particularly in the periphery. Eurozone unemployment has stabilised while consumer spending data were encouraging. Inflation fell to 0.5% prompting the European Central Bank president, Mario Draghi, to contemplate radical policy measures including quantitative easing. Investment in Schroder European was increased. Fidelity Germany fell 1.78%, reflecting Germany's dependence on Russian energy imports. Japanese equities fell 0.17% as investors awaited the impact of the rise in consumption tax on spending. CF Miton UK Smaller Companies was the best performer, gaining 4.94% despite the 2.60% fall in UK equities overall. The WAY Global Red Active Portfolio fell 1.19% in March against a 0.55% fall for the sector.
