Fund manager's commentary

Pollsters, bookmakers and investors were all confounded when UK referendum voters chose "Brexit". Sterling fell and equities also fell initially but the WAY Global Red Active Portfolio benefited from holding foreign-currency assets as the dollar, yen and euro rose 8.88%, 17.70% and 8.66% respectively against sterling. The receding prospect of interest rate rises spurred Asia ex-Japan and emerging market equities to gains of 11.90% and 13.34% respectively in sterling. The portfolio benefited from its significant holdings in these markets, with the iShares MSCI Emerging Markets Minimum Volatility exchange-traded fund (ETF) rising 12.95%. Towards the end of the month, a holding was added in the sterling-hedged share class of the iShares MSCI World ETF, which should benefit from recoveries in global equities and sterling after the initial sell-off. The iShares MSCI World Minimum Volatility ETF performed well, rising 13.48%. In the Tokyo equity market, Lindsell Train Japanese Equity outperformed its benchmark, rising 11.23%. A sterling-hedged holding of this fund was added to the portfolio, again in anticipation of a recovery in sterling. US equities rose 9.16% in sterling, a gain reflected in strong gains for the iShares Core S&P 500 ETF. Increased export competitiveness following sterling's fall and supportive comments from the Bank of England governor, Mark Carney, led to a recovery in UK equities, which ended June up 4.97%. The SPDR Barclays Emerging Market Local Bond ETF was a beneficiary of sterling's fall, returning 14.40%. The WAY Global Red Active Portfolio gained 5.03% † in June while the sector gained 2.57%.
